ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

Describe architectural features. Evaluate the characteristics of this building in terms of other buildings within the community.

The two story dwelling at 1037 North Street rests on a stone foundation. The three by one bay dwelling faces North Street to the west while Andover Street is located to the north. A small shed is located to the south of the dwelling. The walls of the building are clad in painted wood clapboards. The side gable roof is sheathed in asphalt shingles. A brick interior chimney projects from the east slope of the roof. The central entrance on the west façade is a projecting front porch. The one-story shed roof porch has several Colonial Revival details including a projecting cornice with decorative brackets, a wide frieze band, and corner pilasters. The porch also features a band of 2/1 wood sash windows above a half height wall clad in wood clapboards. The main cornice is similar in detail to the porch cornice. The first floor windows are encased in a decorative enframing below a simple entablature. On the north façade, the first floor window is a large central fixed pane flanked by narrow 1/1 sash windows.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE

Discuss the history of the building. Explain its associations with local (or state) history. Include uses of the building, and the role(s) the owners/occupants played within the community.

In 1905 Addie Chase sold to Clara Trull a lot of land at the corner of Andover and North Streets. By 1910, when Clara transferred the title of the lot to Herbert Trull, there was a building on the lot. Herbert Trull lived on North Street until 1929 when he and his wife moved into his father's home at 1512 Andover Street. (TEW.36) Circa 1937 a small one car garage to the south was associated with the dwelling.

Additional owners include: Herbert Trull (1910-1929); Cornelius and Margaret Glen (1929-1976), William H Glen (1976-1977); Joseph Squires Jr (1977-1985); Robert & Cynthia Willis (1985-1987); and Joseph Marques (1987-2009)
